PureLock™ System

SuperCom offers a complete tracking and monitoring solution for storage units and cargo containers via a secure and reliable locking mechanism. The LockAlert system monitors all activity and provides real-time alerts when the lock has been breached. Using SuperCom's advanced RFID technology, the lock owner can rest assured that any and all tamper attempts will be recorded and alerted immediately.

In large storage areas, or when using unsupervised containers, there is a genuine need to track and monitor the stored items, and get a real-time alert upon every attempt to break into the area or steal items.

LockAlert™ Tag (P/N: PRF-PURET15AT)

- A smart Lock with an integrated RFID tag offering a secure monitoring solution.
- Communicates with the PureReader unit to enable tracking abilities and alert signaling.
- Provides real-time alerts when the lock has been breached.
- Durable rugged enclosure designed to withstand tough environments and sever weather.
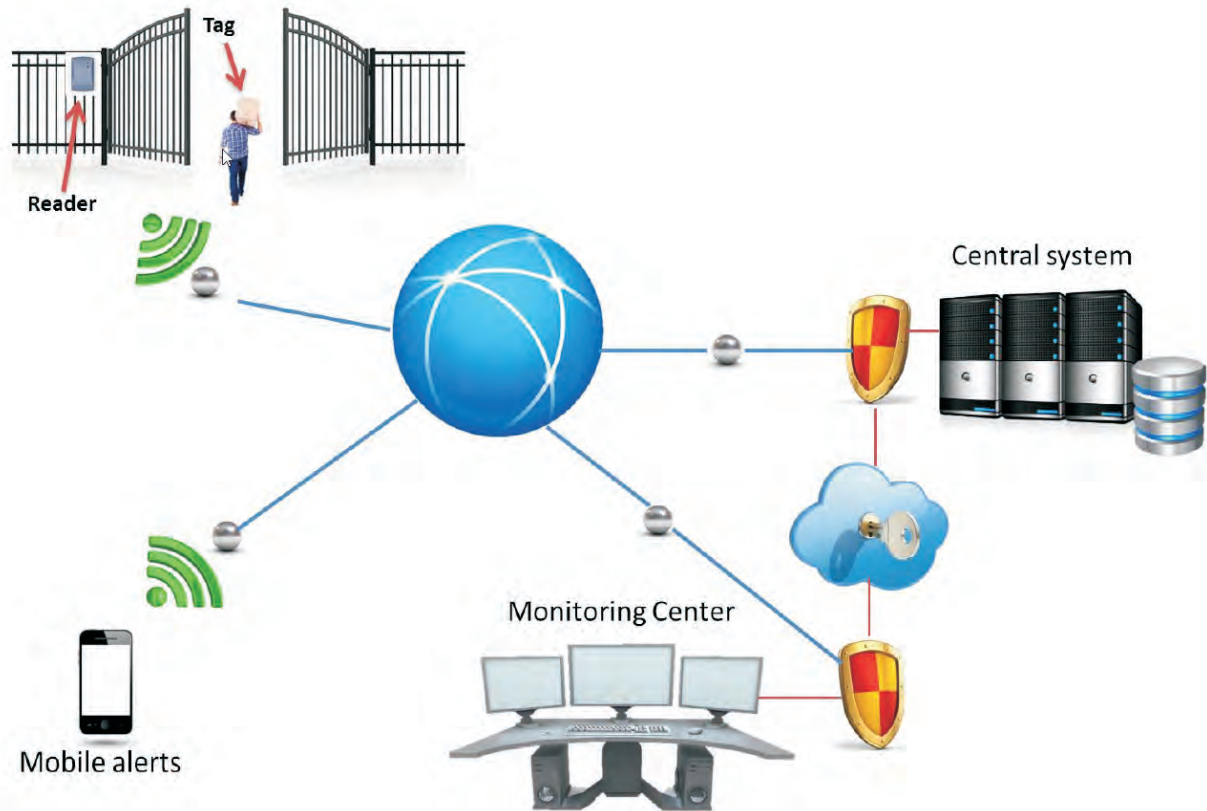

How Does It Work?

The solution consists of several components, and built in a triple-layer structure. This unique structure, allows seamless expansion to other applications, such as Asset Management and Access Control.

The PureTag is a lock with a highly durable integrated RFID tag that communicates with the PureReader once opened or tampered. The tag is secured and has an extremely long battery life

The PureReader is an RFID reader which receives transmissions from the tags and provides notifications based on pre-defined rules. The PureReader can alert in real-time or store the events to be extracted by the user via our proprietary API.

The PureMonitor is a web-based application, accessible via browser or mobile device, over a secured connection. It provides complete management and tracking capabilities for all containers/units being locked. Rules can be defined to determine when the locks are allowed to be opened and by whom. In addition, the alert mechanism can be configured to use SMS, email or mobile push notifications.
